The background of the image is a composite of two scenes. The lower portion shows a rugged, brownish mountain range under a hazy, golden light. The upper portion features a vibrant sky with a gradient from deep blue on the left to fiery orange and red on the right. Wispy white clouds are scattered across the sky, and several thin, white contrails from aircraft crisscross the upper half. The sun is positioned behind the word 'LORD', creating a bright, circular glow that illuminates the surrounding clouds and sky.
